2. Quickstart for this category

Getting started with self-hosted / local AI infrastructure

1. Right-size the workloads: list what must run locally (privacy) vs what can be cloud (elasticity). Local-first does not mean local-only.
2. Hardware reality check: VRAM decides model size. An 8GB GPU comfortably serves 7-8B class models; larger models trade speed for size or quantization. Match ambitions to silicon.
3. Deploy the stack in layers: runtime (Ollama), orchestration (agents/automation), state (local knowledge store), and access (loopback-only by default; tunnels only when you intend exposure).
4. Automate the boring parts: service definitions with auto-restart, health probes, and log rotation. A stack you cannot reboot hands-free is a stack that will fail at 3 AM.
5. Practice recovery: test a full reboot with everything coming back up. Twice a year minimum.
